Appeal to Support CIF Charity Raffle for Children of Fallen Heroes

Hello friends. Once again, we are connecting when things are looking good, on the overall Covid-19 situation as well as the summer temperatures! Let's hope both remain in the tolerable range in the near future.

This month, I want to say, right off the bat, that we need your support for a cause that we are very excited about. CIF has launched an exclusive fund to aid the children of fallen soldiers in India and Canada who may want to pursue higher education in Canada but is unable to do so because of their financial situation.

The 6th annual charity golf tournament organized by Canada India Foundation in support of families of Fallen Heroes in Canada and India are set for tee-off on August 25, 2021, at the Royal Ontario Golf Club, Hornby, ON. The tournament will observe all the Covid-19 protocols in force at the time.

As usual, the support for this noble cause has been excellent with foursomes already fully sold out! The CIF charity golf has raised hundreds of thousands of dollars in the past for designated causes, thanks to the active participation by the CIF members, well-wishers, and supporters.

We seek your support and full participation this year as well to help support the new initiative. We would like to request you to please be part of this noble cause and book your raffle tickets in advance. (Read more)

Ayurvedic Management of Dementia

The 21st session in the ongoing CIF Ayurveda Speaker Series, held on July 26, featured Vaidya Milind Patil MD (Ayurveda) and Medical Advisor to Sandu Pharmaceuticals Ltd, Mumbai, who spoke on the alternative treatment options available to manage dementia. Also featured on the platform was Special Guest, Deepak Anand, MPP and Parliamentary Assistant to Minister of Labour and Skills Training, Government of Ontario.

Satish Thakkar, Chair, CIF, opened the session by pointing out the dire need for effective and cost-efficient ways to deal with a healthcare issue that is threatening the seniors across the world. “According to WHO, there are about fifty million people living with dementia today, and 60% of them live in low to middle income countries. In Canada, nearly half a million people suffer from dementia, and this is projected to go up to 9,00,000 by 2030. So, today’s topic is especially of relevance to our healthcare system,” he said. India-UK tie-up to explore Indian herb Ashwagandha for Long COVID relief

The London School of Hygiene & Tropical Medicine (LSHTM) is teaming up with All India Institute of Ayurveda (AIIA), an autonomous body under the Ministry of AYUSH in India, on a trial to find out whether the Ashwagandha herb can help people recover from Long Covid. Commonly known as “Indian winter cherry”, the Ashwagandha herb is traditionally used in the Indian Ayurvedic system of medicine to boost energy, reduce stress and strengthen the immune system. Recent trials have demonstrated its efficacy in reducing anxiety, stress, improving muscle strength and reducing fatigue symptoms in patients with chronic conditions (Read more)

Reliance's Big Push towards Green Energy

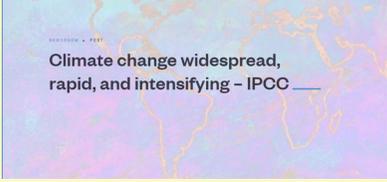

India's largest private sector corporation, RIL, recently made a $144 million investment in US-based leading battery technology company, Ambri. Ayurvedic Management of Breast Cancer

Expert Speaker

Dr. Ranjit Nimbalkar

Sunday August 22nd, 2021

Time: 10:00am to 11:00am EDT

Breast cancer is the highest fatal "external" cancer. It is not that difficult to palpate, identify and diagnose this cancer, both by patient and by doctor, and early diagnosis should lead to prolongation of death. But in spite of this fact, it is taking toll of many lives. So something concrete needs to be done towards this burning issue.

Breast cancers are of many subtypes, having altogether different responses to treatments. For some women, breast cancer may come back after treatment – sometimes years later. This is called a recurrence. Recurrence can be local (in the same breast or in the surgery scar), regional (in nearby lymph nodes), or in a distant area.

Ayurved has a lot to offer in treatment and prevention of breast cancer. This lecture will try to throw some light on both therapeutic and preventive aspects of treatment of breast cancer.
