Friends!

India is on the moon. The news is a few days old. And it may have disappeared from the front pages or primetime news by now. But for those of us, nearly a billion and a half of us, living in India and elsewhere, the occasion will continue to reverberate for months or even years to come. That is until the next big news in India's space odyssey breaks.

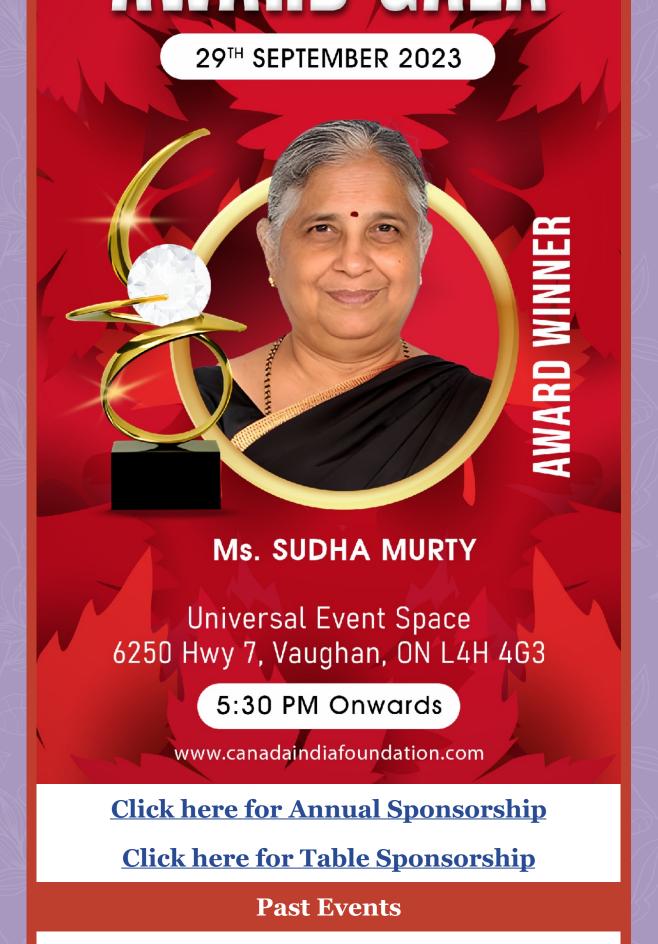

When the Vikram lander (and Pragyaan the vehicle that would roam the surface of the moon) finally made a smooth touch down on August 23, 2023 (an interesting combination of numbers for numerologists!), there were shouts of joy and I am sure, some deep sighs from those living with the project for the past four years.

After Chandrayan 2 crash landed just meters short of its destination in 2019, there were many gloomy predictions and cynical comments made about India's space ambitions. In fact, some questioned the very need for spending money on such explorations. I remember the then head of ISRO breaking down overcome with emotions. But India's leadership was not shaken. In fact, Prime Minister Narendra Modi publicly affirmed his continued faith in the leadership and encouraged them to pick up from where failed.

Four years later, we have the international headlines. India becomes the fourth country to land on the moon. India becomes the first country to land on the far side of the moon. Pragyaan is now moving around the South Pole of the moon in its search for signs of water there. While it is a huge boost to India's prestige in the world, there is an even sweeter spot it creates for us in the global Indian diaspora. Today thanks to events like this, the general perception about us undergoes a change. There is respect, acknowledgement of Indian capabilities and overall appreciation of India and Indians all over the world. So, from all of us who live far away, (not as far as the moon) a huge round of applause to the entire team of Chandrayan 3.

As for critics of the money spent on the mission, here is an interesting stat – India's US$75 million Chandrayan 3 budget is only slightly higher than some of the mega-budget movies being made in India today. Now on to our own mission, set to make a splash right here in Canada – CIF Global Indian Award 2023. This annual event has become a most prestigious and well-regarded event in the calendar of Indo Canadians, drawing the top leaders from business and industry, public arena and academia. This year, it has a big surprise in that the winner is first ever woman to be accorded this honour. And the winner is none other than Ms. Sudha Murty, one of the most admired and visible faces of India today. (Read more)

CIF Charity Golf Tournament Draws Record Attendance

Brampton, Aug. 10, 2023: The 8th Canada India Foundation (CIF) charity golf tournament was held at the Lionhead Golf Club and Convention Centre in Brampton on August 9<sup>th,</sup> 2023, a picture-perfect day for golf, blessed by the weather gods as noted by the chief architect of this philanthropic initiative, Anil Shah, Chair, CIF Golf committee.

The tournament attracted 292 golfers, creating a record in attendance as well as funds raised for the cause. While thanking the players and sponsors, Shah, said: "At CIF our goal has always been to foster ties between Canada and India. At the same time, we also want to demonstrate our commitment to both countries through such charitable activities. This is one of the most noble causes that anyone can be a part of.
